Commission on Chicago Landmarks
David R. Mosena, Chairman

1968  2008
40 years Chicago Landmarks Ordinance

Chicago Landmarks are those buildings, sites, objects, or districts that have been officially designated by the City Council. They are recommended for landmark designation by the Commission on Chicago Landmarks, a nine-member board appointed by the Mayor and City Council. The Commission is also responsible for reviewing any proposed alteration, demolition, or new construction affecting individual landmarks or landmark districts.

The date the landmark was designated is shown in parentheses. Complete descriptions and photographs of all listed landmarks can be found on the website at: <http://www.cityofchicago.org/landmarks>
